

Thematic Working Group on Integrating Adaptation & Mitigation

This working group has been established as a joint effort of the MIP4Adapt project and MAIA. It involves representatives from 12 EU projects dealing with integrative research, policy, and governance approaches to synchronise adaptation, mitigation, and urban development action.

Apart from exchanging knowledge on the underlying theory and methodological frameworks, the group is interested in liaising with public administration and practitioners currently implementing such integrated approaches. The intention is to learn from their practical experience and translate their needs back to future R&I programmes and climate policy initiatives.
